

Mark N. Wexler

Mark N. Wexler is the University Professor of Business Ethics and Management in the Segal Graduate School of Business, Simon Fraser University and the President of the Perimeter Group of Ethics Consultants. Dr. Wexler's published work appears in over 120 refereed journals and in eight books. He is the recipient of 4 teaching awards, numerous grants and research funds and has received the Price Waterhouse Cooper's 2004 Leader in Management Education and the 2010 Paz Buttedahl Lifetime Academic Career Award. Mark has consulted for diverse organizations in the private and public sectors. These include Abbott Laboratories, Air Alaska, Bank of Montreal, BHP Billiton, Canadian Immigration Services, Diageo, Doctor's without Borders, Lockheed Martin, Microsoft, Nokia, Proctor and Gamble, Revenue Canada, General Electric, Royal Dutch Shell, Toyota Motors, United Technologies, United Nations Famine Relief, and others. Currently, Mark is working on a new book entitled, "The Organization of Scandal: Disrepute in Unexpected Places."

June 2010