

Martin L. Puterman is Advisory Board Professor of Operations in UBC's Sauder School of Business and founder and Research Director of the UBC Centre for Health Care Management at UBC. His research focuses on using mathematical models to improve health care operations and planning especially pertaining to cancer care delivery and decision-making. He has worked and consulted for the Vancouver Coastal Health Authority, the Vancouver Island Health Authority, The Provincial Health Service Authority and the Fraser Health Authority as well as wide range of other BC organizations.

Prior to coming to Vancouver, he received his PhD in Operations Research and an MS in Statistics from Stanford University and AB in Mathematics from Cornell.

Marty came to Vancouver in 1974 with his wife Dodie Katzenstein. They have two children Jenny Puterman and David Puterman. Jenny is working for Vancouver Coastal Health in community development and David is completing a Master's in Public Administration at the University of Victoria. Prior to joining the Louis Brier Board of Trustees, Marty was a member of the JFSA board. He and his wife are members of Or Shalom.

Marty loves sports and is an avid golfer. He is a member of Shaughnessy Golf and Country Club.

November 2008